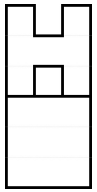
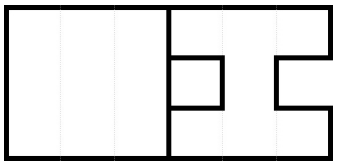
Needing and Waiting
for Nourishment





NOURISHING IDEAS: CLOUDS, RISING TO HEAVEN

When I am sky being, water streaming;

Then I am soaking heaven with a steam which will later bring rain to fill the pool of clean, refreshing nourishment.

Inside, I am gathering into one unity with heaven's leading impulse (herding my virtues and harmonizing the tendencies of my heart without employing my influence); and Outside, I am opening and closing doors of opportunity for earth's heavenly yield (remaining content to wait for the moment that the substances of my life become harmonious and orderly).
